PROFILE

I am a career educator with 10 years of experience in course design and online teaching and learning. I am passionate about creating robust, equitable courses which help all learners succeed. I am deeply invested in the mentoring process, as today's instructors face more technological and interpersonal challenges than ever before. I am organized, detail-oriented, and self-motivated. Most of all, I believe in lifelong learning.

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

LAKE-SUMTER STATE COLLEGE | 2013 - PRESENT

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS:

- Advise and mentor full-time and part-time faculty.
- Act as collaborator and consultant for faculty needing assistance with Canvas LMS and other educational technologies in multiple modalities: seated, online, blended, and real-time virtual.
- Evaluate peers' online Canvas courses using Quality Matters principles (I am a certified QM Reviewer).
- Research tools, technology, and best practices for delivery of first- and second-year writing courses.
- Designed, developed, and implemented the standard Canvas shell for first-year composition (ENC 1101).
- Gathered feedback from instructors and students and used it to make further improvements to ENC 1101.
- Led the student learning outcomes committee, which conducts needs analyses, defines instructional goals, and suggests improvements for first-year writing courses (ENC 1101 and 1102).
- Interfaced with college administration to discuss the proposed improvements to first-year writing courses.
- Established the list of benchmark assignments used for all ENC 1101 sections.
- Design, develop, and update optional course shells for other English courses via Canvas Commons.
- Create instructional materials for courses, including PowerPoint decks, infographics, and videos.
- Assess and edit materials to ensure they meet ADA accessibility standards.
- Teach classes in seated, online, blended, and real-time virtual modalities for a population that includes many high-achieving dual-enrollment students, with high pass rates and consistently positive evaluations.
